

Report: Operation Omega - 23-08-2002

August 23th , 2002
Mission Status: Complete

Mission Classification: Sierra III Sabotage

Personel

Nick Fel, Cat Farr, Glantry Fett, Phil Fett, Padme Fett, Bookdawg, and a brief visit by Vipper

Injuries to Personnel:

Glantry- An acid burn on his leg
Padme Fett- claw marks from an alien on her back
Other minor bumps and bruises to additional personnel

Briefing – Made by Padme Fett

The world of PX5-298 have asked for our help. They are being attacked by some type of alien species. These species take they prey well "soon to be food!" to the queen. The queen of these species is located deep in the sewers on this planet. Intel has pin pointed the location of the Queen. When she is distroyed the others die. We will travel thru the Star gate. Make our way down to the sewers. Locate the Queen and destroy her. Her younglins are gaurding her very heavily. These creatures are very tactical. They have sharp claws. They have bobytrapped the sewers so we have to make our way carefully. After we find and destroy the Queen, we will set charges and get out then blow the sewers to kill all of her eggs.

Mission Report – Made by Padme Fett

We got this mission going almost on time. Everyone showed up at the last minute. Glantry dialed the gate up and we went thru. We made our way to the sewers with the locals of the planet hidden in the mountains. Padmé was made to go into the manhold first by her peers. It was not a pleasant smell. Cat had to be practically pulled into the sewers as she was afraid to get her clothes messed up. Glantry, Book and Padmé lite torches and then Padmé took point and led the way. The RS team ran into a boodytrap and was given orders to just step accross it. Glantry dified these order's and cut the wire. At that moment a huge boulder came running towards the team. Book ducted into a small opening in the wall while the others ducted to the ground. We then continued to where the queen was.....while trying to stay away from Glantry as he had ducted into green- greyish ugly teethy alien goop that smelled badly. We were then ambused by the green-grayish ugly teethy disgusting looking man eating aliens. There was a small battle with the RS team being victorious. We then made out way to where the Queen was. Nick and Phil provided cover. Bookdawg set charges while some eggs hatched and swarmed Glantry. Glantry managed somehow to get acid on his leg and Padmé nuetralized it. Bookdawg found a small girl child and returned to the stargate with her while fighting off the grayish, greenish ugly disgusting teethy looking aliens. There was no other lifeforms found in the cocoons the Queen had made. With 3 minutes left we fought our way out. Vipper making a brief appearence before getting kicked out by the Commander. We made our way to the gate, we went thru it running for our life. Bookdawg had taken the small child to medical. Padmé managed to be the last one thru the gate with luckily a dead alien on her back. We then went to Vipper's bar where the drinks were on Padmé and she now owes Vipper 886,867 credits, mainly because well mostly because of her som Phil Fett.